Message from the UVCf Secretariat

Dear Vice Chancellors, University Leaders, and Esteemed Partners, I am pleased to present the Uganda Vice Chancellors' Forum Q1 2026 E-Newsletter.

This quarter reflects renewed momentum in driving innovation, strengthening governance, accelerating digital transformation, and expanding research output across our member institutions. Universities continue to position themselves at the center of Uganda's socio-economic advancement.

Our theme – Driving Innovation, Research & National Transformation – underscores our collective mandate. As leaders of higher education institutions, our responsibility extends beyond academic excellence. We are architects of knowledge, catalysts of innovation, developers of human capital, and strategic partners in national development.

Through collaboration, policy engagement, research commercialization, and institutional strengthening, we are shaping a higher education sector that is responsive, competitive, and globally relevant. Thank you for your continued commitment and collaboration.

Special Congratulatory Message

To H.E. President Yoweri Kaguta Museveni

The Uganda Vice Chancellors' Forum joins the nation in congratulating H.E. President Yoweri Kaguta Museveni upon his victory in the recently concluded presidential elections. This milestone reflects the confidence that Ugandans continue to place in his leadership and vision for the country.

We also acknowledge the continued leadership of the First Lady and Minister of Education and Sports, Hon. Janet Kataaha Museveni, whose stewardship of the education sector remains vital to strengthening Uganda's human capital. As universities, we value the partnership between government and higher education institutions in advancing policies that enhance quality, access, research, and innovation across all levels of learning.

As institutions of higher learning, we remain committed to providing quality and inclusive education that equips our students with the knowledge, skills, and character needed to serve the nation effectively. Through teaching, research, and community engagement, we strive to foster innovation, ethical leadership, and practical solutions to the challenges facing our communities. We will continue working collaboratively to strengthen higher education as a key pillar in Uganda's development and transformation.

On behalf of the Secretariat of the Uganda Vice Chancellors' Forum, we extend our warm congratulations and wish H.E. the President wisdom and continued success in serving the people of Uganda.

UVCF Executive Committee Convenes at Cavendish University Uganda

The Executive Committee Members and Secretariat of the Uganda Vice Chancellors' Forum (UVCF) convened at Cavendish University Uganda for a strategic Executive Committee meeting aimed at advancing the Forum's mandate and strengthening higher education leadership in Uganda.

As the principal decision-making organ of the Forum, the Executive Committee plays a critical role in providing strategic oversight, policy direction, and institutional guidance to ensure that UVCF effectively serves its member universities and stakeholders.

The Forum was graciously hosted by the Vice Chancellor of Cavendish University Uganda, Dr. Olive Sabiiti, whose leadership and hospitality contributed to the success of the meeting.

UVCF extends its sincere appreciation to Cavendish University Uganda for hosting the Executive Committee and for its continued support toward advancing higher education excellence.

Africa Educationist - Award

Makerere University Vice Chancellor Prof. Barnabas Nawangwe has been awarded the African Educationist of the Year Award at the 15th African Leadership Magazine Persons of the Year ceremony held in Accra, Ghana.

The prestigious award was presented by Lesotho's Prime Minister, Sam Matekane, during a ceremony presided over by former Tanzanian President Jakaya Kikwete, who chairs the African Leadership Magazine. The recognition followed a public vote conducted in December 2025.

The accolade celebrates Prof. Nawangwe's contribution to higher education and his leadership in navigating Makerere University through complex development challenges facing African institutions. Under his stewardship, the university has pursued institutional reforms, strengthened research-driven innovation, and expanded international partnerships aimed at repositioning Makerere as a globally competitive university grounded in African solutions.

His recognition places him among notable African leaders previously honoured by the magazine, including Ghanaian Presidents John Mahama and John Kufuor. The award reflects a growing continental appreciation of education as a critical pillar in Africa's socio-economic transformation.

The ceremony drew prominent leaders, policymakers, and influencers from across Africa. The honour significantly elevates the visibility of Makerere University and Uganda within pan-African leadership circles. It reinforces Uganda's longstanding reputation as a regional centre for academic excellence and intellectual leadership.

For many in the education sector, the award is not only a personal milestone for Prof. Nawangwe but also recognition of Makerere's continued role in shaping Africa's future through scholarship, innovation, and leadership.

Over 9,200 graduated at Makerere University's 76th Graduation

Makerere University set a new academic milestone during its 76th graduation ceremony, awarding 213 Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degrees, the highest number of PhDs ever produced by the university in a single graduation.

The ceremony took place from 24th–27th February 2026 at Freedom Square at Makerere University in Kampala. Thousands of students graduated with different qualifications, but the 213 PhD graduates stood out as a major highlight of the event.

Growth in research training

The large number of PhD graduates reflects Makerere University's growing focus on research, innovation, and advanced academic training.

University leaders noted that increasing the number of doctoral graduates is important for strengthening research capacity in Uganda and across Africa. PhD holders play a key role in teaching at universities, conducting research, and solving national development challenges.
